A POLITICAL PROBLEM.

There is a well-authenticated rumor that Mr. D. W. Higgins, editor and gentleman, aspires to be Finance Minister. Mr. JOHN would also be willing to sacrifice his personal interests for the public good—immolate himself as it were on the altar of his country—and even believes that he has a prior claim to the position for the unswerving support accorded in the face of kicks and cuffs administered on several notable occasions by a heartless and unfeeling superior. Arcades omnes; what matters it to the public which of these two fervid patriots get their fingers in the public money-chest, when there is no choice between the two evils. But what is to become of Hon. JOHN ROBSON, the versatile Provincial Secretary, whose individuality permeates the whole institution, dominates the leader and cajoles or coerces the majority. We are really more concerned for his future, and for the harmony that should pervade government circles, than we are to know who is going to succeed the excellent Mr. DUCK, who must some time be sent adrift if he declines to retire voluntarily. Fire and water may assimilate, but Robson and Higgins are such incongruous elements that to coalesce would be but to invite disaster—annihilation. The pitiful tale of the Kilkenny cats would be enacted over again in real life, and neither of the political felines would survive the relentless conflict! The problem the Government has to solve is a very difficult one indeed. Eventually, there can be no doubt, Mr. Robson will have to go—and then, what? After that—the deluge, perhaps, or worse!

MARINE ITEMS.

Mr. J. Gutmann returned from Clayoquot last night on the steam schooner Dolphin. He reports the Pathfinder at that place last Wednesday. She left same afternoon after procuring bait.

The steamer Lottie, Capt. Sweeney, arrived from San Juan last night at 7 o'clock.

The steamer Mexico arrived at noon to-day from San Francisco.

At Nanaimo the steamer Alki is loading coal and the barque Ferris S. Thompson discharging ballast at the V. C. Co.'s wharf.

The steamer Alaskan, Capt. Waite, from Fort Wrangel on the 14th inst., arrived at 6 o'clock last evening.

The ship Glen Lyon grounded in Esquimalt yesterday, but was towed off shortly after the accident by the Cormorant.

GOOD, FERTILE LAND.

The Columbian states that the engineers who are engaged in surveying the Dominion lands of the province into mile sections have an excellent opportunity of learning the true character of the country. They say that people in general have a very imperfect idea of the beautiful strips of agricultural land which exist some miles back of the Fraser and are not yet taken up. An engineer informed a reporter yesterday that they had passed through several beautiful prairies which can easily be placed under cultivation and in the course of a year or two must become the homes of a thriving population. The wonderful productiveness of the soil in the valley of the Fraser, the ready market and high prices which farm produce brings in the province, will always be an incentive to the farming industry, notwithstanding that some difficulties may have to be encountered.

NOTES FROM NANAIMO

Our correspondent at Nanaimo writes on the 24th inst., that on the arrival of the Queen of the Pacific at 4 p. m. to-day they lowered a boat for the purpose of taking the guy ropes to their fastenings and while engaged therein they got entangled with the propeller of the ship which striking the small boat broke it at once and upset the occupants into the water. A small skiff from the wharf picked up one of the men, and a boat from the ship F. S. Thompson succeeded in rescuing another of the crew; the body of the third man has not been found as yet.

Mr. Montgomery's store was entered by burglars last night and about $150 in cash abstracted. The thieves entered by cutting through the panel of the door, and gaining access thereby to the lock. They rifled the till and also his trousers and vest pockets close by his bed while he slept, obtaining upwards of $100 there; the balance from his till in the store, also a small quantity of cigars, tobacco and fruit. No clue as yet to the thieves.

ALPHA.

CUSTOMS SEIZURE.

On Saturday, Mr. R. Hunter, of the customs department made an important seizure of jewelry, which, it is claimed, was entered at an under valuation. A commercial traveler named Goldberg, representing Julius Newman, of San Francisco, arrived with a trunk full of sample jewelry, but was not permitted to break bulk for the purpose of exhibiting his goods to the trade. The custom house officer required that an invoice should be made out, which was finally done, the estimated value being placed at $575. The goods were detained by Mr. Hunter and appraisers called in, one estimating the value at $2200 and another at $3000. The trunk and contents were consequently held by the collector and the case referred to Ottawa. Mr. Goldberg, who has returned to San Francisco, claims that these valuations are too high and that his own estimate, made without a very accurate knowledge of the contents, is a reasonable and fair one. Before leaving the city, he placed the matter in the hands of Mr. T. Davie.

HEAVY SEIZURE.

When inspecting several chests of a tea cargo of the Zoroya at Port Moody, on Saturday, which had been damaged by water, it was discovered they were filled with valuable good on which there is a high duty. The customs officers at once seized all of the cargo at Port Moody. Most of it, however, had already gone east. The smuggled goods were consigned to a Montreal house.

The steamer Ancon due on Wednesday last from Alaska has not yet arrived. It is feared that an accident may have happened to her.

REPUDIATES AN ORGAN.

Sir John Macdonald Throws the Toronto Mail and its Opinions Overboard.

The Mail Defines Its Position—Will Become an Independent Journal.

The sensation of the hour in political circles is the rupture that has taken place between Sir John Macdonald and the Toronto Mail which for many years was looked upon as the mouthpiece of the government. It is evident that the course pursued by the Mail for the past year has been such as to alienate from the Conservative ranks the Catholics of Ontario as well as creating a war of races in Quebec, and bitterness throughout the other sections of the Dominion. The Mail's policy has been one of determined opposition to what it believes to be the inroads that the Roman Catholic Church is making throughout the Dominion, and rather would it see "Confederation smashed to atoms" than that the present system of political truckling should continue. The Mail's onslaughts "concerning the ecclesiastic system of Quebec" has compelled Sir John Macdonald to repudiate that journal as representing the views of the government. In his address at London on the 16th inst., the Mail reports the premier to have said:

"Before sitting down he stated that he was much obliged to the Conservative press for the independent support it gave the Government. That press differed from the Reform press in that it was not under the thumb of party. The Globe, for example, was the mere mouthpiece of the Reform party. Mr. Edgar was its director and manager. He controlled its opinions, and he imbibed the opinions he published through the Globe from the politician for whom he acted as whip—Mr. Blake. Thus the Globe always spoke for Mr. Blake and Mr. Blake was responsible for its utterances. The Conservative press, on the other hand, was independent. It was an able press and was entirely free from party control. For this reason he did not feel bound to be held responsible for what it said. He and his Government would only answer for what they had uttered themselves in Parliament or on the platform. He mentioned this because he differed altogether from the recent letters or articles in the Mail touching the ecclesiastical system in Quebec. One of the complaints made in those letters or article was with reference to the system of tithes in that province. That system was really a good system. Under it religion was supported, and under it too those who differed from the Roman Catholic Church were relieved of any claim to contribute to the support of that Church. But if it was a bad system, and the people did not like it, they were in a position themselves to change it. It was in fact a question with which this province had nothing to do."

THE MAIL'S REPLY.

Smarting under the black eye given it by Sir John, the Mail in its issue of the 20th thus defines its position:

Some remarks concerning the Conservative press and its relations to the government, made by Sir John Macdonald at London the other day, render it incumbent upon the Mail to define its position as a public journal. Since it passed into the hands of its present owners, the Mail has been an independent Conservative journal. A mere organ—an instrument manipulated by a certain set of politicians—it has not been; and we need scarcely add that at this stake in its career, when it is enjoying an unprecedented measure of public favor, it does not intend to assume so unhappy, not to say so unworthy, a role. * * * The Mail is and for nine years has been wholly and absolutely independent of all governments and politicians whatsoever; and, owing nothing directly or indirectly to them, or to their influence, it has not suffered them to dictate its course upon any question of high or low degree; but has everywhere and always asserted its right to think and to speak for itself. This position the Mail will continue to occupy, our conception of the true functions of a great public journal inclining us more and more to the belief that the public interests are better served by free and healthful criticism than by undiscriminating devotion to one side or the other. * * As may be gathered from Sir John's remarks at London, we differ from him just now upon a question of very great moment. Though not conscious of being influenced in the remotest degree by religious bigotry, the Mail is nevertheless persuaded that a crisis in our affairs is at hand, in consequence of the overshadowing power possessed at Toronto, Quebec and Ottawa by the Roman Catholic Church. We would grant to every church the utmost latitude of thought and action within legitimate bounds; but the vast organization of which we speak is everywhere invading the domain of civil government and undermining the authority of the State. In Quebec that church is the State Church, licensed to invoke British law for the collection of tithes and of the enormous assessments she levies upon the people for the erection of her edifices. The temporal and spiritual privileges which she enjoys, enormous and exorbitant beyond the Old World parallel at present existing, enable her to control the Provincial Legislature as well as the great majority of the French members in the Dominion Parliament. The Riel agitation in Quebec has revealed the presence of a concealed imposthume more dangerous than an open wound. Ontario, although she is here the Church of the majority, we see her holding the balance of power between the two parties, and wringing from the Government of the day concessions to which she has no sort of just claim. Why should his Grace Archbishop Lynch be permitted to emasculate the Common school system of Upper Canada? Why should he be allowed to draw revenues for his religious orders from the public treasury, to tamper with Protestant school books and even with the Book of Books, to nominate Roman Catholics to office without regard to their fitness, to secure for his Separate schools privileges and exemptions denied to the schools of the majority? * * * * * The Mail takes a very different view of its duty. Looking with a single eye to the future welfare of Canada, we believe the time has come for compelling the Roman Catholic Church to keep within her proper sphere. She has no moral right to her extraordinary status in Quebec, her existence as a State Church being unjust alike to the habitant whom she crushes with her imposts, to the English-speaking settler whom she is eradicating from the soil to make room for tithe-payers, and to the people of the whole Dominion who are of necessity affected by the injury done to a component part. She has no right to interfere for her own aggrandizement or for the curtailment of the liberty of others in the public affairs of Ontario. She has no right to claim special representation in the Provincial and Federal Governments. She has no right to appear at all, as a Church, within the field of civil polity or secular administration. She is entitled like every other religious body to the widest freedom of conscience and worship, but beyond that her claims are mere usurpations which must be met and overthrown, even though, in the case of Quebec, an alteration of the constitution should be found necessary.

Sir John Macdonald does not share these views, and it is needless to say that they meet with no favor from politicians on the other side. It is not improbable that the Mail may be compelled to differ from both sides on some other questions that are pressing solution—notably the liquor question, which we think must be handled with far more determination than has yet been evinced by either the Reform or the Conservative party. It sometimes happens that the journal which assumes an independent stand finds itself "between the incensed points of mighty opposites"—at variance with friend and foe. But in dealing with the grave matters referred to, we put our trust not in politicians so much as in the enlightened conscience of the Canadian people who have never yet averted their faces from a good cause. Upon other issues, such as the maintenance of British connection, the encouragement of native industry, the construction of railways, etc., the Mail will continue to be an earnest advocate of the policy of the Conservative party, which has done so much for the material progress of this young community. But the public will be good enough to understand that in all things, great and small, the Mail will not be an organ, but a thoroughly independent journal, bound at any cost to give expression to its honest convictions, whilst treating we hope with becoming respect the opinions of all those on either side who feel called upon to differ from us.

DISHONEST AND UNRELIABLE.

The management of the Regina Leader learning that Mr. J. W. Mackay the bonanza king was on board an east bound train approaching the Northwest capital detailed a representative to interview the world's greatest millionaire. Mr. Mackay was affable to a degree and gave the reporter full swing for the few minutes the train remained at the station there. We observe that a portion of the interview is copied by the Vancouver News but a very important part of the interview intentionally omitted. To say the least this is anything but creditable to the News, which aims at being an impartial journal. In the News we find that in answer to the question if Mr. Mackay had come from Victoria, he replied: "No; I came from San Francisco. We sailed or rather steamed to Victoria—a delightful trip, though the weather was a little foggy. It brightened up just as we entered Victoria harbor." But the concluding part of the sentence is left out by the News. It is this: Victoria harbor he said was "one of the finest in the world. Talk of the Bay of Naples or the Bosphorus, there is a harbor you can compare with any of them." He considered the railway a wonderful work, one of the grandest of modern times, and the finest he ever was on. He condemned the policy of a few trying to prevent the line going to Vancouver. Without the line that place was not worth a cent. The timber from Kicking Horse Pass to Vancouver, owned by the government, would be, he was told, pay for the cost of the line four times over.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

WHY DON'T THEY REFUND?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Would you kindly inform many readers of your paper in this section, if you know whether the Dominion Government has, or is now doing anything in the matter of remitting the moneys paid in advance by applicants for license under the "Dominion Liquor License Act." It was given out some time ago that Mr. J. M. Sparrow, of Victoria, had been appointed agent of the Dominion Government for this province to settle up this matter, but if that gentlemen has been doing anything in the matter it has not yet been made apparent to us. It seems a good deal like an outrage, that a government handling and controlling millions of money and lands, to squander on their pets of the Canadian Pacific railroad, after about two years of illegal possession, they cannot at once find the means to return the few thousand of dollars illegally collected in this province under one of their own acts and long since defunct. To the millionaire princes of the C. P. R., controlling the government and finances of the Dominion of Canada, ten dollars may seem a very small sum of money, but to many like myself, if not to every individual of the applicants in this province at least for license under the unconstitutional "Dominion Liquor License Act," the amount seems too much to lose or present to the Dominion Government.

ONE OF THE VICTIMS.

Sicamous, Sept. 23, 1886.

REPLY TO JUSTITIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—In your issue of the 17th instant, I noticed an article signed "Justitia," commenting strongly on a bridge recently constructed by me. I deny most emphatically that Mr. Clapperton, government agent, showed me any favoritism in any way whatever. On the contrary, he was, I thought, decidedly strict with me. I will now build a bridge the same as the first plans called for at $575, but to build another the same as the one built I should want at least $700. "Justitia" is a crank, I should judge, certainly no mechanic, and will do well to leave other people's business alone.

JEWISH SYNAGOGUE.

The Jewish residents of Victoria elected their Synagogue officers yesterday with the following result: A. Otner, President; M. Moss, Vice-President; E. J. Salmon, hon. Secretary; J. Isaacs, Treasurer; B. Aaronson, M. Stromes and M. Lenz, Trustees. Services will be held at the Synagogue on the occasion of the New Year (Rosh-a-Shono), which holiday commences from Wednesday evening next to the following Friday sun down.

CONFIDENCE IN VICTORIA.

The lot on Yates street, west of Mr. Phillips' engraving shop, has been leased by Mr. David Hewes, of San Francisco, for a term of forty years from Mr. John Hall, Nottingham, England. A substantial brick building will be erected at an early date.

FOOLISH MERCHANTS.

Victoria Merchants to be Taught a Lesson by an Eastern Luminary—New Ethics in Commerce.

A few days since as recorded in THE TIMES, a Mr. Leckie, of Toronto, engaged in supplying eastern fishermen with material required for their avocation visited this city for the purpose of introducing his goods. From the following, which we clip from the Vancouver Herald, it appears Mr. Leckie was not so successful as he would have wished. Says the Herald:

"The Victoria merchants are not yet cured of their aversion to Canadian manufactured goods. Mr. Leckie, manufacturer of nets and twines in eastern Canada, was in Victoria a day or two ago and offered his line of goods at 20 per cent. less than San Francisco prices, but failed to book an order. He visited Vancouver this week, and has decided to establish a branch here for the purpose of going into competition with Victoria merchants. Experience teaches fools, and we think it will soon teach the merchants of Victoria."

Either the Herald has misunderstood Mr. Leckie, or that gentleman has intentionally misrepresented the actual facts of the case. Mr. Leckie did visit some of our leading wholesale as well as the retail dealers in fishery supplies. Amongst others he called on Messrs. Robert Ward & Co., who it appears are the sole agents in British Columbia, for the same house that Mr. Leckie represents in the east, that of Messrs. Stewart, of Musselboro', near Edinburgh, Scotland. On comparing goods and prices it was found that the nets and lines used in the lake fisheries in the east was entirely unsuited to this coast, the netting especially being defective in so far as the salmon trade was concerned. Mr. Leckie was slow to realize this, but experienced fishermen soon exploded his theories and satisfied him that he was "many days behind the fair," that in fact he had not the stock, nor could he supply the quality of goods in demand here. He was further assured that in consequence of the fishery season being but a partial success the canneries had a sufficient supply on hand to carry them over next season's operations. Then the quotations given by him for an unsuitable article were not deemed satisfactory. Consequently Mr. Leckie, like many other would be wise men that come from the east to this coast in ignorance of its actual requirements had to take his departure without placing any of his goods. Other similar occurrences have come under our notice; but in every case, where the goods and prices are right eastern houses have no trouble in securing orders from dealers in this city. The fact that no less than one consignment of 300 tons reached the city on Saturday via the Canadian Pacific is the most positive proof that Victoria dealers are always open to buy in the cheapest markets. They have been successful in their operations in the past, failures being an unknown occurrence here. It may be that "experienced fools" at Vancouver can teach them something with which Victoria traders are not unfamiliar. This, however, they do know, that they can manage their own affairs, in their own way and liquidate their obligations by paying one hundred cents on the dollar every time. Traders here are pleased to hear that Mr. Leckie is to establish business at Vancouver, and when he has goods suitable to the trade and regulates his prices accordingly they will extend to him, or to any else a share of their patronage. But unsuitable goods, no matter how bolstered up, they will not purchase at any price, and this the Herald and Mr. Leckie should know ere this.

THREE HUNDRED TONS FREIGHT.

As announced in Saturday's issue the Yosemite brought across from Hammond a cargo of 3,000 cases of salmon, 60 head cattle and three hundred tons of freight consigned from Eastern Canada to this city. This would equal thirty car loads of ten tons each, or two full train loads. Yet we have been told repeatedly that the through traffic was so insignificant that one train a month would more than supply all that was wanted for this coast. There were false prophets from the beginning of time and their vocation will not cease until time is no more. Amongst other consignees there were the following amongst the Yosemite's manifest: A Phillips, A McLean, A F Hotaling Co, A B Gray & Co, A Gregg & Son, Belmont B & B Co, Bank B N A, C Morley, C Stronss & Co, Chas H King, Carter Bros, C McK Smith, C Lang, D Spencer, D Drysdale & Co, E B Marvin, E H Jones, Fell & Co, H Abbott, H Mansell, H B Co, H Jewell, H Saunders, J Barnsley, J Weiler, J Sehl, James Crawford, John Partridge, Leamy & Smith, Loewen & Erb, Langley & Co, McDonald & Co, M Lenz, Nicholles & Renout, N & Ross, Petetit & Lindsay, P McQuade, R Jamison, R Lettice, Shore & Anderson, H L Kelly & Son, Turner B & Co, T B Pearson, T N Hibben & Co, T Earle, W Wilson & Co, W H Redmond, W Robertson, W Craft, W G Morris, Dom Express Co, M McTeigh, G Vienna, G Tollick, G Norris, J H Brown, J H Todd & Son, J T Papst, Van V & Bro, Kit Long, A Dickey, Order Tusk Yuen F D & B, W R & Co.

INTERIOR ITEMS.

[From the Sentinel.]

The Rev. Father Graton, of Regina, was in town last Sunday, and paid the mission a visit. He left on Tuesday for the east.

Duck and goose shooting is said to be good on the north side of the river toward Tranquille.

Mr. Hussy, the Government Agent at Lytton, has left for California for his health.

Judge Walkem returned to Kamloops last Monday. The judge has been absent for the past two weeks attending court at Clinton and Cariboo. Speaking of the prospects of the latter place he expressed the opinion that mining was about to be revived in the shape of gold bearing quartz.

It is rumored that a lot has been selected, and that ere long Kamloops will have a Presbyterian church added to its public buildings.

A fine exhibit of fruit left Kamloops last week for the Colonial Exhibition, London, England, comprising apples, pears, squash, turnips and watermellons. Some of the apples weighed 11½ ounces each, while one squash tipped the beam at 60 lbs. Samples of Chilliwhack pears measured 9½ and 10 inches in circumference.

A requisition is being extensively signed at Kamloops to the Attorney-General, requesting that an inquiry be held into circumstances connected with the arrest and detention of J. B. Hill, who was incarcerated in January last and has not yet received a hearing.

A party in Kamloops desiring to go east, sends to Vancouver for his ticket instead of purchasing at Kamloops, saving by the transaction $30.

American Despatches

THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Chief Constructor Wilson estimates the active life of the wooden war ships of our present navy as follows: Tennessee, the only one classed as first rate, six months; Trenton, Omaha, Vandalia, second rate, and Mohican, third rate, ten years. Lancaster and Brooklyn, second rates, and Adams, Alliance, Essex, Enterprise, Nipsic, Tallapoosa and Yantic, third rates, six years; Hartford, Richmond and Pensacola, second rates, and Juniata, Ossippee, Quinnebaugh, Swatara, Marion, Iriquois and Kearsage, third rates, five years. These, together with the iron ships Monocacsy, Alert and Rangoon, 3rd rates; Michigan, Pinta, fourth rates, constitute the available fighting force of the present navy. The most powerful of their weapons are converted guns, having ranges, perhaps, of two miles. They are excellent arms for operations against wooden ships and ancient fortifications, or shelling towns, but inefficient against modern armour. The very best of these ships is held by our naval authorities to be too far behind the times, as a reliance for defence or offence in actual warfare. The list of iron clads comprises more than a dozen of monitors, but none of them are in condition for service. This showing of the United States places her by her own authorities at the foot of the list of naval powers in the essential matter of ships and munitions, there being three South American, two Asiatic and 15 or 16 European powers which outrank us in that portion of our prospective. The new navy, "whose construction has already been sanctioned by Congress, numbers eighteen ships of all classes, to cost an aggregate of something near that $20,000,000 and most of which, barring accidents or failure of appropriations, is expected to be afloat four years hence. They are required to be built entirely of metal and no device known and approved at date of their planning to secure efficiency as fighting machines has been, or is to be omitted in their construction. Their armament throughout will be of modern high power guns. Largest guns at present contemplated being 12-inch breech loading rifle, carrying missile which weighs more than 800 pounds and requiring more than 400 pounds of powder for each discharge. Theoretical range of such weapons is about 12 miles, but difficulties in matter of elevation and otherwise serve to reduce this somewhat in practice. Some of these ships are to be armoured the heaviest probably carrying sixteen inches of steel as a protection; there will be "protected cruisers," that is vessels whose thick lower decks of steel will dip their edges below the water line and serve as a protection to machinery, magazines and other vital parts of vessels. The others will be four steel cruisers, two gun boats, a first class torpedo boat and one dynamite gun cruiser, of steel. The cruiser Dolphin, 1,500 tons displacement, is already completed and receiving her armament. The Atlanta, 3,000 tons is on her trial trip and her armament is being tested, while the Boston, 3,000 tons, and Chicago 4,500 tons will be rapidly advanced in construction. Five of the armored vessels are of the double turret, monitor class, which are designed to carry 4 heavy high powered guns, throwing 500 pound shells with a possible range of ten miles. These ships were planned ten years ago. Doubtless if planned to-day some change would be made but they are nevertheless spoken of by Commodore Wilson in his last annual report as the best type of coast and harbor defense vessels in existence. Although not designed for cruising they can, in emergencies be sent abroad, their seaworthiness having been well tested in the past. Congress has now supplied means for furnishing these ships and the work is progressing rapidly. Multonomah, 3,815 tons, will be ready for service this year. The Puritan, 6,000 tons, has her engines in place and is nearly ready for her armor, while the Terror, Amphridite and Monodnock, 3,813 tons each, are now receiving their machinery. The other two armored ships have not yet entered upon their first stage of existence, their construction having only been authorized by Congress at the end of its last session. They are to be of six thousand tons displacement; to have double bottom engines, designed to drive them at a speed of 16 knots per hour. They will have a complete torpedo outfit and armaments of the most effective kind, are to cost not more than a half million each. In the mere matter of displacement those ships will excel by nearly one-fourth the best and largest of present naval vessels, while in speed and effectiveness they are depended on to compare favorable with the better class of European cruising war ships. Dynamite gun cruisers will be a novelty, comparing favorably to anything now in existence. The secretary of the navy is required to make a contract with its inventors for its construction, and the department will have little or nothing to do with the work beyond passing judgment upon plans in advance, and the result at its completion. Conditions imposed by act of congress contemplate the construction of a vessel one hundred and thirty feet long, proportionately very narrow, and of very light draught, with exceedingly powerful engines, guaranteed to be able of producing a speed of twenty knots. In brief, the plans of this craft are understood to look to the placing of this machine and other ordinary appliances of the ship towards the bow and the stern leaving the region amidships for magazine and pneumatic guns, the latter being fixed in position and having a high elevation. The dynamite missels will be thrown like bombs from an ordinary mortar. With all these vessels afloat the United States as a naval power will outrank Brazil, Chili, the Argentine Republic, China, Japan, Greece, Norway, Portugal and Sweden and will be abreast of Turkey, Spain, Holland and Denmark. She will still be outranked by England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia.

KNOWS NOTHING OF HIM.

The Colonist of the 26th in reference to the alleged rupture that has taken place between the premier of the Dominion and the Toronto Mail says:

"It was not necessary for Sir John Macdonald to declare that he had no sympathy with a crusade against any section of the people, and that he would never consent to countenance appeals to race, class or creed prejudices. His whole political life has been a testimony to the fact that his views are liberal and that he is without even a trace of bigotry. Just such men are wanted in this free young country of ours."

The following extracts from Sir JOHN MACDONALD'S speeches and his own letters, will attest how far the assertion of our morning contemporary, that Sir JOHN'S life has been like unto the olive leaf—one of a peace offering—is correct and in accordance with historical facts. We will be charitable and attribute the authorship of the three sentences above quoted to a writer who is entirely ignorant of Sir JOHN'S political career. The premier possibly is the best witness to place in the box, and therefore we will, for the present, content ourselves with remarks made by the gallant knight as to whether "he had no sympathy with a crusade "against any section of the people" "and that "his whole political life "has been a testimony to the fact "that his views are liberal and that "he is without a trace of bigotry." A few days prior to his visit to this province Sir JOHN attended a political picnic in the county of Carleton, Ont., represented in the Commons by that gentleman, and in the course of his remarks said in reply "to the "calumnious hypocrites who repre-"sented him as the personification of "religious fanaticism, that "he had never in his life set foot in an Orange lodge." * * * "I am accused," said Sir John, 'of being a Protestant,' and even of being a bad Protestant. In like manner I have been accused of being an Orangeman, although I have never set foot in a lodge."

There are many to be found throughout the Dominion who will not give the premier credit for being a rigidly truthful person, notwithstanding his exalted position and the immense power and patronage that has been under his control for many years. The instances on record of what we will mildly term forgetfulness and an undue economy of the truth are numerous and ere the Colonist launches out again in the above strain the writer had better read and make himself familiar with Canada's politics for the last forty years. But what does Sir JOHN himself say as to his connection with the Orange body? During the contest in Kingston in 1861, when he was hotly pressed by the now premier of Ontario, Hon. Mr. MOWATT, Sir JOHN declared that he had joined the Orange order in 1841. He said:

"Why, sir, how did I become an Orangeman? I was not an Irishman by birth, and had little to do with politics in those days. It was in 1841, in times when Orangemen were on the descent, when the provincial Legislature had proscribed them, forbidding them to wear their regalia, and declaring their processions illegal, and at times when they were about to pass a law preventing an Orangeman from becoming a juror or a constable, or holding any official position under the Crown, thus branding him as an outlaw and a traitor to his country. I, sir, and many others like myself, felt deeply indignant at this wholesale proscription of a respectable and loyal body of men. I was not an Orangeman, but I knew many of the best men in Kingston were—men of intelligence and sterling worth—and I resolved that if they, among whom were many of my best friends, were to be proscribed and hounded down merely because they were Orangemen, I would go in with them and submit to the same obloquy, the same proscription. [Loud cheers.] Then, sir, I became an Orangeman, and it was for the purpose of showing my sympathy with men whom I believed to be outraged by the conduct of the legislature. [Renewed cheering.] What then, sir, did Mr. Brown do? At that very time he was urging the administration, of which he was a prominent supporter, to put down Orangeism. Why, we read in the Globe of those days that they had their feet on the Orangemen and were bound to keep them there. [Hear, hear.] At the very time when I from sympathy with their wrongs joined the body, Mr. Brown was hounding on the Government for the purpose of repressing them. [Applause.] And, sir, while I, as an Orangeman, have ever since been true to its principles, that gentleman has turned his coat again and again. [Loud cheers.]

The Colonist, however, would make its readers believe that Sir JOHN "would never consent to countenance "appeals to race, class or creed pre-"judices." Unfortunately for the sage-like opinions of our versatile contemporary, the actions of the premier place a different construction on his conduct. On the eve of the general election in 1882—only four years ago—Sir JOHN MACDONALD thus countenanced appeals to race and religion as set forth in the following letter:

[Letter from Sir John Macdonald to the Roman Catholic Bishop of Toronto.]

"TORONTO, June 5th, 1882. [Private and confidential.] MY DEAR LORD—Mr. O'Donohoe will tell you of the tempest that has been raised here in Toronto on account of the supposition that his views are extreme as to the Irish question. This might destroy his future, and it has therefore been arranged between the Hon. F. Smith and O'Donohoe that the former is to represent the Irish Catholics in the Cabinet, while O'D. will get a seat in the Senate.

"FRANK SMITH IS TO MAKE WAY FOR O'DONOGHOE IN THE MINISTRY WHEN THEY THINK THE TIME IS OPPORTUNE. These two gentlemen are acting in perfect accord, and desire that I should explain to Your Lordship the nature of their arrangement, which, of course, MUST BE KEPT A PROFOUND SECRET AT PRESENT. Believe me, my dear Lord, faithfully yours, [Signed.] "JOHN A. MACDONALD.

Then again in the summer of 1871 while addressing an assemblage of electors at Peterboro', Sir JOHN MACDONALD used the memorable language in reference to RIEL, who was then supposed to be a fugitive from justice that "he wished to God he knew where he was so that he could lay his hands on him!" His friend Archbishop TACHE of St. Boniface, Manitoba, in his evidence before a committee of the House of Commons, which was of a startling nature and will never fail to interest and amaze the most incredulous, produced and read the following letter:

"Private and strictly confidential."

"OTTAWA, 27th December, 1871.

"My dear Archbishop: I have succeeded in making the arrangement for the individual in question. I now send you a draft at sight on the Bank of Montreal for $1,000. There is no need of pointing out to Your Grace the necessity of paying him this money in instalments, [say monthly or three monthly] and not all at once, for the money would then be squandered and our embarrassement would recommence. The payments should extend over a year."

"Believe me, Your Grace,

"Your very obedient servant,

[Signed] JOHN A. MACDONALD.

"His Grace, the Archbishop of St. Boniface."

Such in brief are a few of the reasons why our contemporary, ere it again ventures a laudation of the Dominion premier, it is to be hoped will adhere to the truth and state that which hundreds of thousands in Canada know to be facts and further attested by the handwriting of Sir JOHN himself.

THE FINANCE MINISTER.

Referring to the tu quoque argument of the Victoria government papers, in replying to our own contention that Mr. DUCK is illegally drawing a salary as Finance Minister, the New Westminster Columbian has the honesty to say:

"If Beaven does wrong does it justify the present government in doing so also? We are of opinion that Mr. Duck should either get a seat or else step down and out."

The Columbian is a government organ, and is inspired, controlled and partly owned by Hon. JOHN ROBSON, a colleague of MR. DUCK. Its opinion, it is not unreasonable to assume, is the opinion of the Provincial Secretary, and both, apparently, are agreed that Mr. DUCK should get a seat or get out. The Hon. WM. SMITHE, who is primarily responsible as leader of the government for the constitutional administration of public affairs, is thus directly and properly reproved by the Columbian and the Provincial Secretary for continuing in office a gentleman who long ago lost the confidence of his constituents, and is without a seat in the House. Mr. DUCK is really not very much to blame, and may be depended on to sign the checks for his salary of $250 per month until the government invite him—as the electors have already done—to surrender the seals of office. SMITHE, not DUCK, is the man who is responsible to the people.

THE Canadian Government has asked for the release of the fishing vessels captured in Behring Strait and taken to California, and according to one statement a release has been granted. But the questions which the seizure raises have yet to be settled; and the release of the vessels would not debar any claim which their owners may have for damages. In 1872 Secretary Boutwell expressed the opinion that his government did not possess the right of excluding foreign fishing vessels from the Alaskan seas. The three mile limit will, of course, stand good. It is satisfactory to know that the American Government will in respect to these vessels, follow the course taken by the Government of Canada in dealing with American vessels captured for breach of treaty or infraction of law, on the Atlantic coast. If there be any formal decision, it will be judicial not departmental.

THE present is a time prolific of great tunnel enterprises. Besides the English channel tunnel, and the subway under the strait of Northumberland, which the people of Prince Edward Island are agitating, there is also the tunnel to connect Scotland and Ireland, that was not long since alluded to; and another, of even bolder design, to bring into closer communication Sweden and Denmark. This latest is the idea of a Mr. Rothe, an engineer, who has had his ideas brightened by some years' experience on the Panama Canal. The length of the bore on his lines would be seven and a half miles, divided into two sections, the shortest two and a half miles to an island off Amager, the longer being between the island and Saltholm, in Sweden. The cost of the work is placed at $6,000,000, and, as in the case of the others, the benefits to commerce would be admittedly great. The prospect of any of them being carried to completion, however, is at the moment very remote.

A few years ago had any one predicted that the orchards of Australia would provide the fairest portion of the dessert for the London dinner in the height of the season, he would have been set down as a dreamer gone wild with the colonial idea. Yet the miracle has been accomplished. Apples and pears, themselves the offspring of an English stock, have come to replenish the native supply, appearing in abundance precisely when they are most needed. In May and early June housekeepers are sorely tried to furnish the last course. English apples are few and shriveled. Those of American growth are spent. Pears are not on hire. The time of strawberries has not come, except for the "swaggering" classes. Grapes are in their worst season. The nuts of autumn are dry and musty, and oranges are over. It is at this season that we are to be blessed with the noble and beautiful growth of Australia, of which as yet only the timid firstlings appear in the fruit market of the colonial exhibition.

Considering that these apples and pears have traveled a distance of 14,000 miles, and that the arrangements for their transport are yet imperfect, we must pronounce the experiment a complete success. In respect to looks, the fruit will compare favorably with the very best either of native growth or of American importation. No finer color or bloom has been seen in Covent Garden market. The apples might have been gathered in the garden of the Hesperides. The pears show little signs of travel. If only for their appearance, they are a splendid acquisition to our dinner tables. Some of the fruit, indeed, can hardly be recognized as belonging to the names by which they are labeled. The scarlet nonpareils and the Sturmer pippins are larger than the average of their respective kinds. The redstreaks and russets recall the warmer and brighter hues of their southern homes. There are few of the varieties but which show an improvement on the type in color, shape and size. In fineness of skin and texture of flesh they are at least equal to their best grown English or foreign namesakes.

THE FLAVOR NOT SO GOOD.

As to flavor, it must be admitted that they are scarcely equal to the promise of their looks. With the exception of one or two of the apples, neither they nor the pears (the pears more especially) are so good to the taste as the best of English or American fruit; but that is a defect that will probably be amended in future importations. The enterprise is a novel one, and it has been carried out without experience and as yet with imperfect means. The greater portion of the fruits hitherto exhibited in the colonial market have come from South Australia and Victoria—colonies in which the apple and pear can scarcely be said to be quite at home. This is the country rather of the vine, the peach and the orange; the climate being hardly moist enough for the production of the purely English fruits at their best.

Tasmania, which is the apple and pear country par excellence, is unfortunately not represented in this exhibition. In Tasmania English fruits attain to a degree of perfection such as would be scarcely credible to those who cling to the superstition that the apple is a distinctly English product. In Tasmania all our worn-out British stocks renew their youth and vigor. There the Ribstone pippin is still to be eaten in its more than original delectableness. There the gooseberry acquires a positive grandeur of character. In that Lotosland of the south is the future orchard of the empire.—St. James' Budget.

Rigorous Rules of the Clubs.

The great, bustling outside world, by whom the clubhouse is supposed to be a retreat from its cares and confusion, have little idea that the rules and regulations are as rigorous and generally as strictly enforced as at any army headquarters. It is said that the most rigorously governed club in the city is the Union League. Here millionaires are ruthlessly posted if they are indebted to the club in a few cents. This once occurred to a no less eminent capitalist than Jackson S. Schultz, who so much enjoyed the joke that he allowed his name to remain on the list the limit of the time before the next step of suspension preliminary to expulsion and suit to recover the amount. The editor of a well known daily paper once thoughtlessly carried away his own paper, and he was suspended fifteen days for violating the house rule that forbids the appropriation of the club literature.

Recently Jesse Grant, who is generally considered the smartest of the three Grant boys, thoughtlessly invited a neighbor of his to visit the clubhouse with him, completely oblivious of the rule forbidding the introduction of residents beyond the little reception room furnished for them by the door, and he has been suspended fifteen days in consequence. This rule regarding the introduction of residents is so vigorously enforced that even the members who lodge in the house cannot see their visitors in their own room, but must receive in that designated for the purpose. This is a rule of all the principal clubs, only the Lambs, the Manhattan and the Lotos making an exception of admitting a resident twice a month. The Union League is the only club in the city that has no card room and that does not allow card playing.—New York Cor. Kansas City Times.

Gen. Sickles and His Medals.

It is not generally known that Gen. Dan E. Sickles owns the right to the baronet's title of "Sir," or at least its Spanish equivalent. The Spanish government bestowed upon him the order of Isabella la Catholica of the grade of chevalier. Gen. Sickles wears several medals in miniature on his breast, connected by a small gold chain, in the European manner, and, I think, has the rosette of officer of the French Legion of Honor in his button hole. By the way, what a number of American men now wear ribbons of one foreign decoration or another stuck in the left hand upper button hole of the coat! A change has come over the spirit of the dream of the American citizen.—Olive Logan in Cincinnati Enquirer.

Paul H. Hayne, the Southern Poet.

Of slight build, and a figure below the medium height; he stands straight as an arrow, and every gesture and motion is a poem in itself. The smooth, rather pale face, cleanly shaven, except the bristly mustache of mingled gray and brown, is lit up by a pair of brown eyes that gleam with the light of geniality. Perhaps physical debility helped to make him more spiritual in his appearance when I first met him, but I imagine that he is just the sort of man to tread the thorny path of life courageously, preserving at all times, and under all circumstances, the strong and telling features of his individuality. He does not appear to be over diffident; neither is he overbearing in his claims.—Cor. Atlanta Constitution.

All That Money for Nothing.

Father—Great Scott! Then I've spent all that money for nothing!—Tid Bits.

Talking About Hot Weather.

"Talking about hot weather," said a brakeman, "that we had the other day was nothing long side of what I've seen down on the Southern Pacific. I was braking down there last summer, and in some o' them dead, desert valleys o' Arizona, where rain never falls and the sun's always blistering, I've seen weather that'd remind a man of what's in store for him after he leaves this vale o' tears and boardin' houses. One day last summer we were running along in that country when an accident occurred such as I s'pose was never known in all the history of railroading.

"All of a sudden the locomotive was seen to be bouncing along like a ball, an' the engineer was so frightened that he shut off steam as quick as he knew how and whistled like sin to call all of the men forrard. We rushed up ahead and he told us what had happened, but we laughed at him and made so much fun of him that he finally pulled open the throttle ag'in just to show us that he knew what he was talking about. I hope to drop dead in St. Louis an' be cut up in a medical college if that locomotive didn't bounce just like a ship in a swell. We were all so frightened that we begged the engineer to shut off steam and stop her. What was the matter? Nothin', the rails were so hot that they sagged down between the ties whenever the engine struck 'em, an' the wheels were so hot that they were pounding out flat. Yes, sir, if we'd run a mile further we'd a-had nothin' but square wheels under our locomotive. None of us had ever seen an engine run with square wheels, and so we didn't try it.—Chicago Herald "Train Talk."

He Smelled His Breath.

A bright little 5-year-old boy was visiting his father, who belonged to a New York regiment, in camp.

One day, as he was playing before his father's tent, he was accosted in a pleasant way by a sprucely dressed soldier. He was accustomed to being noticed—a child in camp being a great luxury—but from this soldier he showed evident signs of moving away.

"Come here, my little man," said the officer.

The discerning child replied: "I don't want to; you are a doctor; I know you are a doctor."

"You are mistaken; come here; I am not a doctor."

But the little fellow only put his head out of the tent far enough to say: "Yes, you are a doctor, too; I know you are a doctor, for I can smell the medicine on your breath."

That New York officer never received any other name afterward during the war.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Plea for an Overworked Husband.

Surely there can be no sharper pang to a loving wife than to see her husband staggering under the weight of family life; worked almost to death in order to dodge "the wolf at the door;" joyless in the present, terrified at the future; and yet all this might have been averted if the wife had only known the value and use of money, and been able to keep what her husband earned; to "cut her cost according to her cloth," for any income is "limited," unless you can teach yourself to live within it; to "waste not," and therefore to "want not."—Cor. Harper's Bazar.

INDISPUTABLE CROSS-EXAMINED SWORN EVIDENCE.

William Hicks, sworn before Judge Galt, Toronto, 1882; Jas. Bethune, Q. C., for plaintiff:—I did keep the principal hotel at Perth, Ont., I have gone out of the hotel business now having sold out. I suffered from lame and weak back for ten or twelve years; I began to use the Starr Kidney Pad in the spring of 1880; it was more weakness in my back that I suffered from that pain. I was so weak that when I stooped I could not get up again without assistance. Dr. Howden and others had treated me for the affection, and I went to Winchester springs two or three years, but I got very little relief there, my back was not any better from all the treatment. I then applied the Starr Kidney Pad. I wore the Holman Liver Pad for indigestion, and I found benefit from it. I believe in the absorption treatment firmly; I was glad to get anything, and I bought a Starr Kidney Pad; and I had not worn it over four or five weeks when I began to get better; in nine weeks I was well, and took the pad off for a while. Q.—How was your back? A.—It was strong; I could get up and down readily, my water did not trouble me since that. I wear one once in a while still if my urinary system gets out of order. Q.—To what do you attribute your getting better? A.—To the Starr Kidney Pad; I know of nothing else. I tried everything I thought would do me any good, before using the pad I tried electricity without effect. I know others who have got great benefit from the use of the Starr Kidney Pad. I have formed a very good opinion of the pad in that way. I would not be without it for twenty dollars.

Cross-examination—Q.—Only twenty dollars? A.—And as much more as I could afford to give; I stopped keeping hotel the first of May last. I was never my own customer at the bar; I have sold liquor for 25 years, and I will give any man a thousand dollars that can say he ever saw me take it. I was a temperance man, and preached temperance to everybody. I did not keep hotel for the selling of whisky, but for the accommodation of the public. Q.—And you have it yet? A.—Oh no. I had a liver pad on my stomach; I did not wear both of the pads together. The Starr Kidney Pad cured my back. Q.—You wore them every other day? A.—No sir, I have not worn the liver pad for five years now. I used to suffer greatly from weakness, now I feel strong. I have gone out of business; I do not think I have less to do now, I think I have more to do. Q.—Has the weakness entirely gone? A.—I wear the pad occasionally; if I feel the least appearance of weakness I will put it on for a week or so occasionally. I have not had any bad symptoms for over a year now. I think I get better through using the pad. Q.—You cannot tell whether the pad did it; all you know is you were sick, and now you are well? A.—I think I got better by using it. I know that nature is a great restorer. Q.—Won't you give nature a little credit? A.—Yes; and a good deal of faith in this pad. The pad cured me where all other medicines, springs and doctors failed. DR. VANMONCISCAR,

THE WELL-KNOWN

SPECIALIST,

Proprietor & Consulting Physician of the Only Private Dispensary on the Pacific Coast, now permanently located at 132, 134, Third Street, Portland, Or.

DR. VANMONCISCAR has made the treatment of Private Diseases of Men a special study and practice for many years. Over 4000 cases treated yearly. Recent cases of private diseases cured in a short time. Ulcers, Humors and Blotches on Face or Body cured without giving Mercury or other Poisons. Mercury is the curse of the human race. Your children will suffer from its effects. Avoid it as you would avoid any deadly Drug, and use no more. These diseases are being cured at this Dispensary without Mercury.

DR. VANMONCISCAR

is a graduate of a regular Medical College, is well known over the United States and Canada by and it is a well known fact that for years he has confined himself to the study and treatment of Sexual and Chronic Diseases, thus giving him advantages few possess. Dr. Vanmonciscar addresses himself particularly to those who have already tried various physicians and remedies from whom they have received no benefit, and who, in fact, have done them more harm than good. Medicine, like all other sciences, is progressive, and every year shows proof of its advance. By a combination of remedies of great curative power, Dr. Vanmonciscar has so arranged his treatment that it will afford not only immediate relief, but permanent cures.

Thousands of Old and Young Men he has Cured.

YOUNG MEN who are suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretions showing some of the following symptoms: Nervousness and Physical Debility, Impure Blood, Seminal Loss, Manhood, Absence of the system, Exhausted Vitality, Confusion of Ideas, Dull and Loss of Brilliancy to the Eye, Aversion to Society, Despondency, Pimples on the Face, Loss of Energy, and Frequency of Urinating. You may be in the first stages, but remember you are fast approaching the last. Do not let false pride and sham modesty deter you from attending to your ailments. Many a bright and naturally gifted young man, endowed with genius, has permitted his case to run on and on, until remorse racked his intellect, and finally death claimed its victim. Remember that "Procrastination is the thief of time." So lay aside your pride, and consult one who thoroughly understands your ailment, and who will know your case, and find permanent relief for an ailment that has baffled many a druggery and night hideous. Thousands upon thousands of men in good standing in the world, of high reputation in the world, are to-day suffering from the results of their doings, the seeds of which were sown during moments of thoughtlessness. Young man turn and gaze upon my companion, or seek the mirror for proof to substantiate this fact. Oh! could he control the sum of Fate, or had he his life to live again, then I could not appeal to you more sincerely. Let your mind wander back to the much cherished counsels of a loving father, and remember what

FALSE CREEK.

The railway bridge over False Creek will be completed in a few days. No steps have yet been taken by the private property owners to compel the company to provide a swing bridge. The bridge will be about fourteen feet above high tide, a sufficient height to permit the passage of small tugs, barges, logs, etc., but it will block the navigation of the creek to all kinds of sailing craft.

JAPANESE JUGGLERS.

The Japanese troupe of performers, consisting of five adult male and females with four children arrived by the Mexico to-day in charge of Mr. Marshall, an old-time manager on this coast. The party attracted considerable attention when passing through Government street attired in their native dress. They are stopping at the St. Nicholas hotel.

SATURDAY'S FOOT RACE.

The 125 yards foot race between Russell of Victoria, and Davidson of Port Townsend, was won by the former by 6 inches, the time being 12 seconds. The loser is credited with being the fastest 125 yard sprinter in the world, and during Saturday's race found it a difficult matter to let himself get beaten. The Port Townsend men lost a great deal of money, but the general opinion is that their man is the fastest.

WILL BE EXECUTED.

The condemned Sproule will be executed at the new gaol on Friday next, 1st of October, at 7 a. m. The Sheriff has received all the necessary papers and instructions. A commutation is possible, but the authorities are of opinion that the law will be permitted to take its course. The condemned man has a brother residing at Weeks Mills, Me., who has been exerting himself to procure the assistance of the U. S. government. The following letter to him is published:

Secretary of State office,
Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.

FRANKLIN SPROULE, Esq., Weeks Mills, Maine.

DEAR SIR:—With regard to the Queen vs. Robert Evan Sproule, now under sentence of death in British Columbia, Canada, on the charge of murder, I beg to say that the department are aware of the circumstances surrounding the case, and will make a full examination into the matter without delay. I am assured that the Canadian authorities are willing to take every possible action in order that justice may be done. I have the honor to remain, your obedient servant,

THOMAS F. BAYARD,
Secretary of State.

The medical gentlemen who made an examination of the unfortunate man are reported to have come to the conclusion that he is of sound mind and judgment; that in point of intellect and intelligence he is above the average. They failed to discover the slightest traces of insanity in his condition. He protested his entire innocence of the great crime with which he is charged and for which in all probability he will now suffer the extreme penalty of the law next Friday.

BUSINESS AT PORT HAMMOND.

A correspondent writes that business continues brisk at Port Hammond, steamer loads of canned fish arriving three times a week for transport over the railway, though the same fish might be caught here at the door and sent east daily. An immense quantity of freight of all kinds is also brought here by trains for Victoria, down river and the Sound, from which latter place a boat ought to run direct to Port Hammond saving the time of transshipment. The large amount of goods in bonded cars points to the necessity of a custom house being established here. Indeed Port Hammond becomes more and more a point of importance, both on the river and on the railway, but jealous opposition, and the want of moneyed men of intelligence, prevents the establishment of many remunerative branches of business. Having just returned from Victoria I am forcibly struck with the difference between that thriving city and this New Westminster district. There the people seem to pull together for the general good; here it is the reverse principle which prevails in everything.

CRICKET.

An eleven made up from H. M. S. Triumph and such past and present naval or military gentlemen as were available, including our only wicket keeper and two bowlers, tried conclusions on Saturday with a team of civilians and suffered defeat by 70 runs. Sinclair, who beat the warriors off his own bat, played good sound cricket for the top score, 53, being well supported by Doig, Wylde, Drake and Martin. For the vanquished, Captain Rose outfived eight of his following and played an excellent innings as did also Petch. The latter moreover made a grand catch in the long field and Sinclair swapped up two of his opponents very neatly at slip. Of the bowlers, Martin had 5 wickets for 25 runs, Sinclair 4 for 22, Gosford (whose "yorkers" were very effective) 7 for 42, Rose 1 for 24. Petch, Handcock, Fitzherbert and Batts bowled without success. Some of the fielding on both sides was affected by the cold wind and one or two "hot ones" were respectfully declined. Total score for United Service, 48; Victoria for 8 wickets, 118. The band of H. M. S. Triumph played at Beacon Hill during the afternoon.

SAILORS' PETS.

H. M. S. Cormorant, now lying in Esquimalt harbor, has on board a number of birds and animals, pets of the crew. Two trained dogs are very sagacious and amusing. Two ant-eaters, unsightly looking animals, are very docile and knowing. Several trained pigeons complete the number of pets. On the trip up two pigeons flew behind the ship, and by some unaccountable reason failed to catch up and were lost, much to the crew's sorrow. The Cormorant is a wooden vessel and resembles the old Sparrowhawk on this station in the early seventies.

MIGHTY HUNTERS.

A party of hunters, members of the Victoria Gun Club, went out to Shawnigan Lake some days ago to follow the chase. A letter was received from the secretary on Saturday, ordering a barrel of beer and several quarters of mutton to be sent to the camp at once. Knowing the hunters to be all unerring marksmen, we are forced to the conclusion that they have been so surfeited with venison steak and sparkling spring water that a change of diet has been found necessary to preserve the health of the party. There is only one other hypothesis, and that is —— But, pshaw, it is impossible.

THE PROVINCIAL.

—We received to-day a copy of the Provincial Exhibition prize list. This is the first we have seen, and the first official intimation we have had of the approaching show. The directors have not advertised on the mainland at all this year. Perhaps they don't want the mainland to exhibit.—Columbian. A Victorian who visited Vancouver on Saturday also says that very little is known of the exhibition there. No posters were to be seen about the city. This is not as it should be.

THE HACK STAND.

The new hack by-law went into operation to-day, and the hacks all took their stand on Douglas street. The improved appearance of Government street was the subject of general comment. For a short time the hack men may feel disgruntled at the change, but time will vindicate the action of the council and prove that it was in the interest of all concerned.

VANCOUVER SCOTCHMEN.

Mr. Thos. Russell, of this city, installed the officers of the Caledonian and St. Andrew's Society on Friday evening at Vancouver as follows: Mayor MacLean, president, Mr. W. Brown, vice-president; M. Pickeu, secretary; Andrew C. Muir, treasurer; Rev. T. G. Thomson, chaplain; Dr. Hendrickson, physician; Wm. Urquhart, piper; Angus McInerney, warden.

HYMENEAL.

On Thursday last, at the residence of the bride's parents, Johnson street, by the Rev. W. W. Percival, Miss Minnie, second daughter of Capt. William Moore, of this city, was united in marriage to Dr. A. M. Taylor, late of this city but now of Portland, Or. The happy couple left Friday morning on the Sound steamer for Portland.

LORNE CREEK.

Several Lorne Creek miners arrived down on the Alaskan. Mining operations on the creek have been retarded all summer by high water and several wing dams were swept away. The Larkin company was doing well and several others were taking out good pay, but the majority of miners had accomplished little.

He was formerly a merchant, and is descended from U. E. Loyalists. Like all the other eastern politicians who have visited our province this summer, Mr. Scriver is agreeably disappointed with the country, and will carry back with him more favorable impressions of this western portion of the Dominion.

SAD AND SUDDEN DEATH.

The announcement that Alex. Strachan, a well known ship carpenter of James Bay had died somewhat suddenly early this morning took most people in the city, with whom the deceased was acquainted, by surprise. It appears deceased of late had been indulging somewhat freely in liquor and in order to counteract its influence it is believed that he partook of a strong poisonous narcotic, from the effects of which he died this morning. Deceased was a gentleman well known in this city, where he resided for the past sixteen years. He was a member of the St. Andrews and Caledonia Societies. To mourn his sad and sudden end he leaves a widow in a delicate state of health and six small helpless children in destitute circumstances, deserving the sympathy of a charitable community.

The deceased lost a brother by falling overboard a steamer on its way to San Francisco, and his father is believed to have drowned himself off Beacon Hill some years ago.

BONDING CHARGES.

The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company and Northern Pacific Railway Company have arranged to pay all bonding and brokerage charges at Port Townsend, Washington Territory, on consignments of freight from British Columbia for points in the Dominion of Canada, and for European export. Mr. W. H. Whittlesey has been appointed Customs Agent of this Company at Port Townsend, for the transaction of this business. All freights as above should be consigned to care of the O. R. & N. Co., at that point. If not so consigned, bonding and brokerage charges will have to be paid by owners. Arrangements have also been made by which bonding charges on similar through west-bound shipments will be paid by the transportation lines.

FIRE! FIRE!

W. Heathorn is now prepared to execute all orders entrusted him with UTMOST DESPATCH.

VICTORIA BOOT & SHOE MANUFACTORY.

FROM CHICAGO.

The Chicago excursionists reached Port Moody to-day and will be in Victoria to-morrow afternoon or evening. Arrangements have been completed to convey the party east from San Francisco via the Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway via Kansas City to their homes in and around Chicago.

ON OATH.

Robert Kennedy, sworn before Judge Galt, Toronto, 1882; James Bethune, Q. C., for plaintiffs: I live in the township of Turnberry, Huron, near Wingham, Ont., I had occasion to use the Starr Kidney Pad about a year ago last winter —for lumbago in the small of the back at least Dr. Bethune told me it was lumbago. I had been suffering more or less for ten years, at certain times of the year I had been treated by Dr. Bethune for it, and he told me I would never be cured, but he could help me a little—Dr. Alexander Bethune is his full name. I just happened to call in at Mr. Bray's drug store, and he knew how I used to suffer with my back, and he asked me how I was? I told him I was very poorly, and asked him if he had anything that would do me good. He told me he was just then packing up a pad for Manitoba, that I might try it; I bought a two dollar pad from him.

Q.—What effect had it?

A.—I was always afterwards getting better; I wore it until about the middle of summer when the warm weather came on. That two dollar pad cured me. This summer I felt some of the effects again from getting cold and wet, and I bought a new pad; I put it on, and have it on now. I thought that perhaps the old one would have lost its strength. I was not taking any medicine whatever in the meantime. Q.—To what do you attribute your recovery from lumbago? A.—Of course I attribute it to nothing else but Dr. Starr's Kidney Pad, and have no doubt about it. Cross-examination—I like the pad so well that I have it on now. In wet seasons I feel some of the lumbago. The pad I have on now I put on some time ago. I would feel some of the effects in a wet season if I had not the pad on. I take cold easily. Q.—Then you are not cured of the lumbago? A.—I am sir. Q.—What are you wearing the pad for? A.—Just exactly because it is my pleasure to wear it. It is comfortable and a support too. I feel just well enough to jump down there now. The present pad I put on some time this summer; I was building a house for myself; I am a stone mason by trade; it was heavy work; this summer I helped to build three or four banked barns; I have no touch of lumbago this summer; I just wear the pad now because it is my pleasure to wear it, it supports my back; I have no need of it at the present time; The directions I have do not say it loses its effect after 6 weeks. I used to suffer every spring and fall, but not now any more. I have not had a twinge of it since the pad went on, and I gave a certificate to that effect, which they have. I am supporting my certificate and sticking to the pad. I work at my trade right along. Langley & Co., Victoria, wholesale agent.
